

Dragonfly

Candlelight makes everything seem beautiful Reach out with both hands to make it seem that things are looking like they're in control walking with my head up high, only thinking with a sigh;
"don't leave me!"
This tickling thing inside is feeling touchable...

Let it go free

I never noticed something missing
I never knew something was wrong
Even when the butterfly turns into a dragonfly live goes on, I'm seeing know what I've been missing all along waiting for the sundown's purple color path Staring at the sky

to make it seem I'm not a standard silly psychopath Fighting with a darker side, seeing things through different light
I'm a stronger man Tickling things inside is what I have Tickling is turning into scratching...

Butterflies are turning into dragonflies...

©These People