

Just a name

Try to find a way to make my life seem more of meaning Can't split the sea
Maybe if I try to walk on water, on the moon, or try To create peace...

why don't you come right over here, she says
And then just whisper your name into my ear
Just to remember you Even when you're not here, when you're gone or even worse...

this moment will be the one this moment will be one thing to remember me by

If I tried to change the world and make it more believing In what is good would it mean that I could be more human more of meaning too Than others should does it matter what you have won what you are trying to be, or even what you've become and does it matter how hard you are trying to make your voice heard she remembers your name

©These People

--- All words and music are written by These People ---