

widower with a wife

Trying every single day while we're talking
To keep the memories alive

I tell about our younger years when we were happy
The words not likely to arrive

You are not here, but you are right here
If you're not here then I'm a widower

The girls they try to understand why their mother
Doesn't recognize no more

Missing at their growing up getting boyfriends
Meanwhile hoping for a cure

You are not here, but you are right here
You are not here, but you are right here

Sometimes with a touch of hand
There's a glimpse, you understand Everything is not as you believe
The world 's a jigsaw

But in fact you're missing out off everything that makes us proud
But I can't move on 'cause it would mean That I would withdraw

You are not here, but you are right here
You are not here, but you are right here
If you are here, then I'm a widower with a wife
